Sweet heart Tirie,

This is the way my gang has to work. We have ten jobs on the fire, and every one of those should come first. So actually this picture isn't very far wrong. The way the picture should be is with me in the middle instead of the seaman between the two chiefs. I don't know who the guy is that makes these up but he sure is plenty good. We get a lot of laughs out of them anyway. I figured on doing a whole lot of writing while I was on duty last night, but all I got out was two letters one to you and one to the wart. I am glad you could have a good time at that Oscar Mayer party. Did you give one of those guys a good hug for me when you were dancing? you are supposed to take care of the old man you know. Or was you one of those stick in the muds, that stand on the sidelines? So you bought a new dress. Well its about time you let the moths out of your pocket book and bought some more clothes. It seems to me that doctor should be able to straighten that back of yours out so you wont be having pains all of the time. If I were home there would be an excuse for it. But never mind honey I will massage all of the pain out of your back for you. you were asking me about Hollinger no I don't think there is one chance in a million of him staying at home as long as he was commissioned a warrant officer. Chances are he will come right back over
