I'll bet that you will be surprised to see this typed letter for once. Well I got fucked into this detail of runner for the orderly for tonight. We just finished another branch today and have to ppll a detail after every branch so I got this. The only bad part of it is that I have been up since 6 this morning and am on untill 8 A,M. tomorrow or should I say today. As it is now about 1 A.M.

I received a box of candy from you and Hellen today. Thanks a lot. The candy sure comes in handy during the breaks at school. In about 7 hours time one gets pretty hungry and that is for sure.

I wrote one letter tonight to Lilian already. I spread her the same old shit as usual. There isn't much to write about here so that is juat about all that I can do is to spread a little of that stuff around. I'll have to get one off to Helen yet and thank her for the candy. That is if I don't get to tired to do any mere.

I haven't been geting very much mail lately. I don't know if they have been screwing it up in the mail room or just what John got a letter yesterday that has been following him around for a year. Fast service no?

Love

Jim
